Political developments

Saturday's Oslobodjenje pg. 7, mentioned on the front page 'I will do what is the best for Mostar', Dnevni Avaz pg. 3 'Winterstein's proposal is the best for Mostar,' mentioned on the front page 'Mostar's open sore may infect the whole BiH', Nezavisne Novine cover and pg. 3, 'Mostar united by

 $\mathrm{31^{st}}$ January' FENA – High Representative Paddy Ashdown said in Mostar on Friday that he believed the situation in the town was worse than unacceptable and that Mostar was an open wound which was destroying the future of the town's children and citizens, and which could also poison the political environment in BiH. The High Representative explained that this was the reason why the Dayton agreement included special provisions for Mostar, and that every solution that was being offered must take into account the specific situation in the town. "The current organization is not beneficial to the citizens of Mostar in practical terms. Because of the political situation the citizens do not have the guaranteed right to use hospitals, schools, sports halls, and refuse is not collected as it should be," Ashdown said at a press conference in the town. He added that the problem of a lasting division of Mostar must be resolved urgently, as this had become an obstacle on BiH's path to Europe, and that the Feasibility Study which stipulates the steps that need to be taken called for the unification of Mostar and its reorganization. "I would like to ask your political leaders a very simple question: Do you and your parties want to be remembered as those responsible for preventing the unification of Mostar and making it a major obstacle on BiH's path to Europe?," Ashdown said, adding that Mostar must not remain a black hole in the country. The High Representative said that the developments in the next few months would place Mostar in the spotlight, as well as that it would become a case in point for the whole of BiH, and that the whole world would be focusing on the town. He said he would be coming to Mostar in the next two or three weeks to help bring the town closer to a solution. Ashdown said that he had concluded that a report by the chairman of the Mostar Commission, Norbert Winterstein, offered the best way forward, and that the proposal did not give everyone what they wanted, but it did offer something to everyone. Dnevni List (Sunday, page 2) carries in its 'Statement of Day' High Representative Paddy Ashdown as saying: "Mostar's open wound can infect whole BiH."

Vecernji List (Saturday, front page, "Mostar Statute in 20 days", and page 3, "Ashdown postponed again solution on Mostar organization", by Z. Kresic), Slobodna Dalmacija (Saturday, pages 14 and 15, "Decision in two to three weeks", by Z. Zekic) and Dnevni List (Saturday, front and page 3, "Ashdown: Reach compromise or forget EU", by M. Relota) also covered the HR's visit.

Dnevni List (Saturday, page 22, "Bosniaks cannot outvote Croat interest", by Milan Vego, N.B. Assume this is the interview that the HR gave to Radio Herceg Bosna a few days ago) carries an interview with the HR. Talking about the Mostar issue and election law envisaged by the proposal of the Mostar Statute, the HR said: "Perhaps, Bosniaks are the people biggest in number in BiH, however, they cannot outvote the Croat interest at that level. If this suits BiH then it certainly has to suit Mostar as well. It would not be logical that Croats say that the system that exists in BiH and that favors them is not proper for Mostar. If it is good for BiH and Croats in BiH, then it is certainly good for Mostar as well."

High Representative announces temporary measures for MostarSaturday's Oslobodjenje pg. 7 'Three temporary measures', FENA - Representative Paddy Ashdown said in Mostar that he made three tem decisions on Friday to prevent the misuse of public property until tstaute of the town of Mostar had been adopted. "I took the decision the sake of caution, to prevent the misuse of public property and at the detriment of the citizens of Mostar, and to the detriment of the of the united town," Ashdown said. He added that the three decision included: a temporary ban on the allocation of land at town leve temporary freeze on new appointments at the level of the town administration, and a ban on any action which could damage the inter the town until the final decision on Mostar had been taken.Another Mostar municipality with Bosniak majority holdsBHTV, FTV on Saturday, Dnevni List Sunday, page 13, "Big turnou citizens marked", by V. VL editorial on Mostar issue	<pre>Vecernji List (Saturday, page 2, "Dominance", by Z. Cosic) carries an editorial on the Mostar issue. The author says: "Ashdown himself does not miss an opportunity to stress that any kind of dominance of one people in Mostar will not be allowed. Although it is not stated directly it is clear that some sort of Croat dominance threatens the city! What does make Mostar so specific that almost the whole world troubles regarding the text of the Mostar Statute and establishment of the City Administration? Nothing but the fact that Croats would be the people biggest in a number in the unified city. All bigger cities in BiH also have their majority. The difference is that Mostar is the only bigger city in which Croats make that majority and a danger of dominance is only seen in the Mostar's majority. "</pre>
RS President Cavic: RS has been created to last	<pre>Saturday's Oslobodjenje pg. 4 'RS has been created to last', ONASA - RS President Dragan Cavic told a ceremony to mark the RS Day/anniversary of its establishment in Banja Luka on Friday that the RS had been created not to disappear but to last. "We cannot be expected to sacrifice the entity for functioning of the state, but, at the same time, we cannot expect the state to sacrifice its path towards the accession to the international and regional integration due to the opposition from the entities," said Cavic. Vecernji List Saturday, page 5, "RS was not created in order to disappear", by bs, Dnevni List Saturday, page 9, "Rights of people in RS must be preserved", by Fena also covered this statement. Glas Srpske, pg. 3, 'A golden star to Cavic' - Gregory Copley, President of the International Strategic Studies Association in Washington, on Friday handed a reward of "Golden Star" to Dragan Cavic, Republika Srpska President for his contribution in strategic development. Copley said that more than any other leader in the region, Cavic has been acting in protection and full implementation of the Dayton Agreement, and also contributed in the regional fight against terrorism.</pre>
Mikerevic: RS is a holiness that can be abolished by no one	Saturday's Oslobodjenje pg. 8 'RS is a holiness that can be abolished/destroyed by no one', ONASA — On occasion of RS Day, RS Prime Minister Dragan Mikerevic told journalists in Banja Luka on Friday that 'RS is a holiness/holy thing that can be abolished/destroyed by no one'.
RS Vice- president Tomeljenovic in favour of state reorganization	BHTV on Saturday, Sunday's Oslobodjenje pg. 2 'Ready for change of Dayton', SRNA - RS Vice-president Ivan Tomljenovic supports the initiative on the internal reorganization of BiH and the establishment of regions instead of the two entities and Brcko District. Commenting on the European Stability Initiative's (ESI) proposal on the new constitutional organization of BiH and the establishment of 12 autonomous units - including 10 cantons, the RS and Brcko District - Tomljenovic said he supported the idea because "BiH must adapt if it wants to join the EU". "We should carry out the reorganization now to avoid having to do it later, when we become an EU member. Of course, Serbs do not like the idea because they are afraid the RS would disappear," Tomljenovic told SRNA. He believes that the Serbs should not be scared of regionalization. "If we want BiH to join the EU, we must accept certain things we do not like and which are not appealing at first sight," the RS Vice-president said.

Doris Pack on change of BiH's structure	TV Hayat, BHTV, FTV on Saturday, Sunday's Dnevni Avaz pg. 2 'BiH has not enough money for expensive authorities' — Member of European parliament Doris Pack commented on recent declaration asking for changes in Dayton agreement. "I'm not against Dayton agreement since it stopped the war in BiH, but existing political structure in BiH is not sustainable. EU parliamentarians just make initial step in expectation of concrete action from BiH politicians." Pack said that BiH is divided in two parts because of the Dayton's Agreement. The FBiH is a problem because it has ten Cantons with more than 110 Ministers and more than 60% of the budget is spent on them, but it is also the question of making of the stable state, interesting for the investors. Saturday's Dnevni Avaz pg. 5, mentioned on the front page 'BiH will consolidate as the state through changes of Dayton' also carried an interview with Pack.

	become a canton but would preserve same competencies as it is now.". Sunday's Dnevni Avaz pg. 4 'Halilovic: It is indisputable that the entities are brakes to BiH's developments' also carried Halilovic's statement. The newspaper also quotes Seada Palavric, SDA Vice-president, as saying that its is about a fantastic idea as well as HDZ spokesman Pero Pavlovic who says it is about a good foundation for further discussion on the issue.
RS	Glas Srpske, pg. 4, 'Test of superficial politicians' — GS brings some politicians/OHR	comments of Republika Srpska officials upon initiative of ESI, regarding on ESI	the change of BiH Cosntitution and abolishment of Republika Srpska and initiative	Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina . Igor Radojicic, Secretary General of SNSD, says that the interest shown by ESI for internal re-organisation of BiH proves that some officials of Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina , mainly of Bosniak nationality, are lobbying throughout the world in order to re-organise BiH. According to him, since Bosniaks do not have support inside BiH, they turn towards international factors, whose goal is to centralise BiH.
	Momiclo Novakovic from SDS and SDS delegate at BiH Parliamentary Assembly and Petar Kunic of PDP, also member to BiH PA, share the view of Radojicic. Nezavisne Novine, pg. 3, 'Republika Srpska opposes, Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina in support of abolishment of entities' - The representatives of political parties from Republika Srpska (Mirko Sarovic of SDS, Milorad Dodik of SNSD, Velimir Sakan of PDP, Drago Kalabic of DNS) are of the view that the new constitutional changes in BiH, proposed by ESI, are not acceptable for Republika Srpska. Unlike them, politicians from Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina (Tarik Sadovic of SDA, Dzevad Osmancevic of Party for BiH, Dragi Stanimirovic of SDP, Pera Pavlovic of HDZ) share the view that abolishment of entities and re-organisation of biH could be a possible solution for BiH.
	Oleg Milisic, OHR Spokesperson, said that: "OHR is of the view that the idea on abolishment of cantons is interesting and stimulating for a discussion." Sunday's Oslobodjenje pg. 6 'BiH without entities unacceptable', Dnevni Avaz pg. 4 'One cannot search for solutions at the cost of RS' also carried reactions by Serb politicians from RS.

CRO press on ESI	Vecernji List (Saturday, front and page 5, "Federation and RS are being initiative with	abolished", by B. Stevandic) carries that European Initiative for Stability reactions	(ESI) has proposed a new organization of BiH according to which entities should be abolished and a federal BiH with 12 autonomous units should be formed. According to this proposal, the RS would stay unified and the biggest in such organization of the state. 10 Cantons, RS and the Brcko District would make these autonomous units. VL says that ESI has come to this solution after the talks they had with leading politicians and important people in BiH.
	Vecernji List (Sunday, page 3, "ESI' idea unacceptable for RS", by B. Stevandic) carries that commenting on the ESI' initiative SDS completely rejected this idea. RS president Dragan Cavic judged as 'nonsense' the claims that de-centralized constitutional solutions of the entities hinder progress of a country. SNSD President Milorad Dodik stated that BiH can only exist based on the Dayton Peace Accord principles. SDA Vice President Seada Palavric says that the ESI' idea is good but it cannot be implemented since RS representatives in the BiH Parliament probably would not support laws that would make possible for the state to take over competence of the Federation of BiH. Member of the HDZ Presidency Velimir Jukic stated that he personally supports the initiative, however, he is not sure whether this is the right time for this kind of re-organization.
	Dnevni List (Saturday, page 5, "Silajdzic against abolishment of FBiH", by De.L.) carries that founder of Party for BiH Haris Silajdzic stated that he is against ESI' idea. He stated: "Abolishment of one entity and preserving of another is something that I cannot agree with at all. On the contrary, I am against it because it would be another award to those who divided BiH through genocide." Dnevni List (Sunday, front and page 5, "Pack: Current BiH structure is not sustainable in terms of economy", not signed) carries that President of European Parliament Board for Relations with Southeast Europe Countries Doris Pack stated in Sarajevo yesterday that the current, complicated structure of BiH established by the Dayton Peace Accord (DPA) is not sustainable in terms of economy. DL says that in this way Pack explained the initiative for re-organization of BiH on the ground of the changes of the DPA that she signed together with 23 representatives of the European Parliament last month.
	Dnevni List (Sunday, "BiH on way to new organization", page 2, by I.

	"Having in mind a great resistance in the RS and political shortsightedness of some BiH politicians, it is hard to believe that the change of the current organization of BiH will take place without the pressure of the International Community."

	competent FBiH Minister Izet Zigic, none was even ready to discus their very good proposals in order to resolve this issue in the next 3 months.

	Elektroprivreda of BiH analyzed on Friday Law on Application of Tariff System for Electricity from December 31, 2003, passed by High Representative Paddy Ashdown. It was judged that this law arranges mutual relations of two Elektroprivredas in the Federation of BiH in a positive way. The press release issued by the EP BiH that EP BiH informed that they do not have enough electricity for Aluminij. The HR said that he heard about this fact a half an hou before the beginning of the press conference and thus he does not

BiH Helsinki Committee says situation in BiH dissatisfactory TV Hayat, BHTV, FTV, RTRS on Saturday, Sunday's Oslobodjenje pg. 7, mentioned on the front page 'International community violates rights of BiH citizens', Dnevni Avaz pg. 4 'Judicial staff depend on the international community,' Dnevni List Sunday, "Human rights in BiH under burden of ethnic and political divisions", ONASA – The situation in the field of human rights in BiH is still dissatisfactory since the international community and domestic authorities have not expressed will for implementation of high standards established by the Dayton Peace Accords, the BiH Helsinki Committee for Human Rights estimated. This organization presented on Saturday in Sarajevo the annual report on situation in the filed of human rights in BiH for the year of 2003. President of the Helsinki Committee Srdjan Dizdarevic said that the last year in BiH passed in an effort of new authorities to preserve ethnic and national divisions. The law on protection of rights of national minorities and the law on equality of genders and the ratification of the Protocols of 12 and 13 of the European Convention on Human Rights were adopted under the pressure of the Council of Europe, as the conditions that follow the admission into that organization. According to the Helsinki Committee, the adopted laws have not been implemented and sub-acts that would make implementation possible have not been carried out. According to the report, High Representative Paddy Ashdown continued the decreeing practice and neglected the strengthening of democratic institutions and a dialogue with the civil society. Positive results in the property repossession did not keep pace with the real return of people to prewar homes, and the social problems and rights of workers became the biggest problems last year in the field of human rights. The Human Rights Chamber, the most credible court body in BiH, was abolished last year by a decision of the international community. Regarding that BiH citizens still do not have access to the Court for Human Rights in Strasbourg, a possibility for protection of human rights before a court is reduced to a minimum. The fact that Ratko Mladic and Radovan Karadzic, indicted for war crimes, are still at large burdens the situation in BiH and hampers the normalization of relations within the state and with the international community. According to the report, by the imprudent law on ombudspersons in BiH, the BiH Presidency has the right to determine candidates for that important functions. Dizdarevic said that the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Councils (HJPCs) had taken care about the national balance where that was possible, adding that the Helsinki Committee will estimate the work of the HJPCs after the completion of the process of appointment of judges and prosecutors in April this year.
