

Supervisor Crishock meets with the leadership of Brčko District

Principal Deputy High Representative and Brčko District Supervisor Louis Crishock visited Brčko District of Bosnia and Herzegovina, where he met with District officials to discuss current political and economic developments, particularly the implementation of key infrastructure and development projects essential to enhancing the quality of life for citizens.

“While there is always room for improvement, Brčko District serves as a positive example of how political dialogue, cooperation, and compromise can produce solutions that benefit citizens. I urged the Brčko District leadership to continue working to create opportunities for private sector growth and to make Brčko District resilient and sustainable,” Crishock said.
