

Vacancy in the Brcko District Interim Assembly

In order to restore the Brcko District Interim Assembly to its full composition of 29 councilors, and to ensure that the diversity of people in the District is adequately represented, the Supervisor of Brcko, Susan R. Johnson, invited political parties to submit for consideration a list of no more than three diverse and suitably qualified candidates who will serve the Brcko District and its residents according to the highest standards of performance and commitment. Suitably qualified individuals who can demonstrate concretely that they represent the interests of significant groups of Brcko residents as independent candidates are also invited to apply for the position of councilor.

To be considered, candidates must be residents of the Brcko District, must meet the requirements of the Statute of the Brcko District and the Law on Conflict of Interest in the Institutions of the Brcko District of Bosnia and Herzegovina and must not illegally occupy somebody else's property. The application should include personal and professional details of the candidates (one page), a statement of whom they represent and information on the candidate's housing situation.

Applications should be received by OHR Brcko no later than March 17, 2004, at 17.00.
